

April 2020

Due to the COVID-19 situation as you may have read in the national press part of the prevention strategy is to avoid cross-infection by limiting the number of people who we meet and with this in mind, we have carefully considered alternative ways of delivering our service so that we can continue to meet your needs without placing you at unnecessary risk of infection.

We have therefore decided as a team that instead of inviting you to our clinic to attend your appointment, we are generally offering a telephone appointment or video consultation appointment unless stated otherwise.
